Party For Coach

American Legion, Post 512, Carmel, will sponsor a community banquet honoring Coach George Mosolf for his 17 years as head coach at the Carmel high school. Legion Commander Paul Artellan announced yesterday.

The date will be July 24, at the Legion Hall, Dolores and Eighth Street. Cocktail hour will commence at 6:30 o'clock with dinner at 7:45.

Judge Gordon Campbell will act as master of ceremonies, introducing Carmel citizens and former athletes who have been coached by George Mosolf. Their number will have to be limited by the committee since everyone wants to express personal gratitude and appreciation of the community for the universally respected and loved man who has instilled his own high standards of sportsmanship and honesty in so many of the young boys of Carmel. Also there is naturally a certain amount of pleasure in the fact that Carmel High School ended the football season undefeated in 33 straight games of B-division CCAL competition.

Only 135 guests can be accommodated in Legion Hall, so the banquet will have to be stag. Artellan says. Tickets, $3.00, are available at the following establishments, and they will be sold on a strictly first come, first served basis:

The Rinky Dink, James Kelsey; The House that Jack Built, Don Sands; The Carmel Post Office, Bill Woolsey; El Fumador, Harry Baxter; or by mail to: Paul Artellan, Box 4052, Carmel, California.

Briefs...

The Torres Street Six, a ragtime band, a one-act Shaw play, Village Wooing, and Lucille Ray, accordionist, will be the Forest Theater Sunday stage program this weekend. No admission charge.

Offstage, Ernest Calley will demonstrate the making of coil ceramics, Blanche Tolmie and associates, puppets.

All Carmel merchants, whether association members or not, are invited to attend a meeting on July 6, 8:00 o'clock in the evening, in the Irving Lundborg office, Dolores near Sixth, according to Gladys McCloud, president of the Carmel Business Association.

Discussion will take place on four items: whether or not Carmel merchants desire an organization within the Business Association; the parking situation; what to do about bad checks in Carmel, especially during the summer season; and business district Christmas plans, including decorations and night openings.

Judge Anthony Brazil ruled against Monterey County's billboard ordinance in its first trip to court this week. The county board of supervisors have not received

DAVID, A PORTRAIT BY RICHARD LOFTON

A retrospective show of the work of Richard Lofton will open Saturday at the Galerie de Tours on Lincoln Street. The paintings will represent his varied styles of expression since the end of World War II when he was released from active duty with the U. S. Army at Fort Ord and settled in Carmel.

Studies of the Gullah negroes in South Carolina, his native state, interested Richard Lofton when he first painted in Carmel. He next turned his attention to landscapes of this area, then made a series of paintings of the whale skeleton at Point Lobos, since removed from the shore of Whaler's Cove. What he terms his "second landscape period" followed. The latest example of this facet of his artistic expression is a group of garden paintings. Pictures from all these periods, including portraits, will be in his forthcoming show. Many of the paintings will be loaned by present owners for the exhibition.

Included in the display of the past 14 years' work will be watercolors, oils and drawings. According to the mood expressed in his pictures, colors range from subdued hues to riots of violent brilliance. All display subtle strength of design, bold execution, disciplined craftsmanship.

Richard Lofton was born in McClellanville, Charleston County, South Carolina, a town settled by his French Huguenot ancestors in 1680. Mingled with this heritage later were English, Irish, Scottish and Swiss strains.

"I'm pure American," he announces proudly.

The youngest of nine children, he began his painting career when one of his eight sisters gave him a box of paints when he was 12 years old. Six years later he entered a portrait of his mother in the professional painting class at the State Fair. "Because it was the biggest class," he remembers.

He won first prize.

"I've never felt so important since," he reminisces, "and I didn't win another prize for 15 years."

His grandfather, a captain in the Confederate Army during the Civil War, was a graduate of the Citadel, so was his father. Richard Lofton also graduated from the southern military college, then went to New York to study painting.

He attended classes at the National Academy of Design. It was during the depression and to continue painting and studying in New York he took a job in a drug store and another with a corporation, making out dividend checks for investors, among whom were the Maxfield Parrish and Clara Bow. Finally he went home, but he never stopped painting.

Later he was asked to be director of the Community Art School in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. He accepted the offer and during the years he held this position, he met and married his wife, Nancy. Soon after their first child, also named Nancy, was born, World War II began and Richard Lofton was commissioned a first lieutenant in the Coast Artillery. He was stationed at Camp Tyson, Tennessee, then at Fort Ord with the rank of captain.

He did almost no painting during the war years. After it ended, he and Mrs. Lofton decided to live in Carmel. Here, after all the pent up no-painting years, Richard Lofton was able to follow his impulses for research into the visible world. The results may be seen in his Galerie de Tours show.

He has also had one-man shows at the University of South Carolina, in San Francisco at the La

Police Seize Marijuana Crop And Art Student

For two weeks, Carmel police have been watching with interest the growth of a patch of marijuana in the heart of the Carmel business district. This morning they noticed that the crop had been harvested and arrested Paul Holcombe, sometimes Paul Taggart, 21, an art student from Los Angeles. In carrying out the arrest, Police Chief Clyde Klummann and Lieutenant William Ellis located the marijuana, drying on tinfoil, in the sun, on the sundeck of Holcombe's apartment.

Planners Say Later To Episcopal School No To Mission Ranch

Chairman Herbert Blanks, yesterday afternoon, appointed planning commissioners Fred Keeble, Hugh Smith and Dorothy von Meier members of a committee to study documents submitted by All Saints' Parish, supporting the parish's request for a use permit to establish a grade school in the residence district at Ninth between Lincoln and Dolores. The committee will report to the commission July 19 when a public hearing on the matter will be held, continued from yesterday.

The commission unanimously voted to oppose rezoning the Mission Ranch property into seven acres of permanent motel use, nine acres of subdivision and 13 acres of greenbelt. The Mission Ranch is now a non-conforming use in a residence zone. In the city's general plan this area is designated as desirable greenbelt.

Commissioners also gave the following reasons against the rezoning: proximity of the Mission Ranch to Carmel Mission Basilica and River School; traffic and police hazards if the proposed 50-unit motel were built; commercial development in a residence zone; residents of the area preponderantly against the rezoning.

They authorized the city clerk to convey their opposition to the county planning commission before this body considers the matter July 25.

Commission Fails To Rezone City's Public Lands

Planning commissioners yesterday afternoon failed to amend the municipal code by zoning city-owned lands into two categories: natural parks (P-1) and natural parks with recreational use (P-2).

A motion to place the beach and three small areas elsewhere in the city into P-1; the Forest Theater, Mission and First park site, city tennis courts and Devendorf Plaza in P-2; was defeated by a 4-3 vote. Commissioners Dorothy von Meier, Hugh Smith and John B. Martin voted for the zoning; Commissioners Fred Keeble, Florence Josselyn, George Wilcox and Chairman Herbert Blanks against it.

The latter commissioners decided against the zoning because specific areas for recreation were not designated at the Forest Theater, tennis courts and Mission and First park. They feared, without such demarcation, recreational uses might spread in the future and eliminate the natural areas they wish to preserve.

Big Doings For The Fourth And The Sixth, Too

The Fourth of July is Tuesday. Each Peninsula community will celebrate Independence Day, according to their individual characteristics, exemplifying American freedom our forefathers guaranteed on the first Fourth of July when the Republic of the United States was established.

Carmel will be quiet with only family fireworks after sundown on the beach, dotted with bonfires on which suppers have been cooked.

Seaside will have its giant patriotic parade and public barbecue. Monterey will entertain Naval vessels and personnel and reenact the landing of Commodore Sloat on Thursday. Pacific Grove will have its usual swim meet at the public pool.

Fourth of July celebrations on the Peninsula start at 9:00 o'clock Tuesday morning with the arrival in Monterey Bay of five U.S. Naval vessels, the USS de Haven, USS Brenner, USS Everett F. Larson, USS Endurance and USS Conflict.

The mayor and city manager of Monterey, Navy League and USO representatives will go aboard the ships, present a wreath, and welcome the ships' commissioned and enlisted personnel to the Peninsula. The ceremonies will be broadcast from the ship.

At 11:00 o'clock in the morning the Seaside Fourth of July Parade will start, to be followed by a public barbecue. From 1:00-5:30 o'clock in the afternoon the public is invited to visit the Navy ships in the harbor.

At 2:00 o'clock there will be Open House at the USO for enlisted men. At 8:00 o'clock in the evening a civic group will board the DeHaven for light refreshments topside and to witness the fireworks display on Monterey Beach as soon as it is dark. There will be a dance at the USO for

CRUCIAL LITTLE LEAGUE TILT ON TAP TONIGHT

With the second-half Little League title hanging in the balance, Pilot Market and Boys' Town square off in tonight's 6:00 o'clock game at the Carmel Little League Park. Art Carpenter's Pilot gang has a one-game margin on Newt Goodrich's clothiers as they go into the final game of the second-half, but the Boys' Town aggregation has been a hot item in recent outings and is a slight favorite to upset the high-flying grocers. A win for Pilot would cinch the second-half title and give the grocers a shot at San Carlos for the 1961 championship. A win for Boys' Town would force a playoff to see which club would get a chance to battle the realtors for the title.

During the past week, Pilot slid by Sport Shop, 3 to 1, and got by Turner & McEldowney, 3 to 2, while Boys' Town won a big one from San Carlos, 5 to 2, and blanked Sport Shop, 8 to 0. However, the big news in last week's Little League play was Turner & McEldowney's big win over Wilder & Jones. The bricklayers pinned a 5-3 loss on the plumbers and are still celebrating a successful season of Little League play. After losing 11 straight, the scrappy T&M gang has continued to put up a spirited performance in every game and has been rewarded for the hustling effort.

Ronnie Parsons pitched Pilot Market to a close 3-1 decision over Clayton Neill's Sport Shop as he scattered five hits over the six-inning route. Randy Newman also pitched a steady four-hit game for the Sports, but lost the verdict when the grocers pushed over three runs in the fifth inning. Mel Grimes for the Sports and Terry Mosolf for the grocers were the top hitters in the game, each garnering two blows in three trips to the plate. Turner & McEldowney forced the league leaders to the limit before bowing in a 3-2 thriller. The surging bricklayers spotted the grocers' three runs in the second canto when Bob Gamble, Chuck Pearson, and Kevin Hale put together three consecutive hits. T&M pecked away for a run in the fifth, one in the sixth, and had the winning runs on the paths when the final out was made. Scott Lemons and Kevin Hale teamed up to pitch the win for Pilot while Jim Grey and Brian McEldowney tossed them over for the bricklayers. Jim Baldwin's triple was the big blow for the grocers while Gary Boyle's double and single led the T&M swingers.

A first-inning homer by Gerald Pullen put Boys' Town ahead of San Carlos and Jack Miller's boys were never able to catch the hustling clothiers. Richard Oleson tossed a steady four-hitter at the realtors and had game control all the way. Big blow for San Carlos was Jim Sparolini's four-master in the last inning. Jack Campbell, 3-for-3, and Mark Snopkowski, 2-for-3, were the top hitters for the winners. Newt Goodrich's gang did a fancy whitewash job on the Sport Shop as Jack Campbell tossed a nifty two-hitter. Paul Culver and Gary Kearns were the only Sports able to solve the tricky offerings of Campbell. Richard Oleson hit a homer and single to lead the winners in the hitting department while pitcher Campbell helped his own cause with a pair of singles.

Turner & McEldowney's satisfying win over Wilder & Jones was engineered by Jim Grey's sturdy pitching and some solid hitting by Rusty Vandervort, Gary Turner, and Bill Thompson. Jim Kelsey's T&M crew was down, 3 to 2, going into the final heat when the winning rally materialized. Vandervort drew a walk, Turner hit a sharp single, Grey walked, and Thompson drove them home. W&J pitcher Ed Kawanakoa led his mates with two hits in three chances and also pitched a steady four-hitter for the losers.

VILLAGE INN, SPARROWS VIE FOR FARM LEAGUE TITLE

Lee McGuckin's Village Inn and Pat Boyle's Little Sparrows will cross bats this Saturday afternoon for the 1961 Farm League championship. The Inn nine worked its way into the championship playoff by clipping the Carmel Plaza, 13 to 12, and the Little Sparrows earned a title shot by downing the Derek Rayne nine, 11 to 6. Carmel Plaza and Derek Rayne will meet for the consolation title in Saturday's 12:00 o'clock preliminary. The Village Inn-Little Sparrows joust will get underway at 2:00 o'clock.

John Goodwin and Brad Grey pitched the Little Sparrows to their important win over Derek Rayne with David Wilkinson supplying the bat power with a solid triple against the right field fence. Mike Dudley, in a losing cause, scored two runs for the clothiers and picked up two singles in three chances at the plate.

Carmel Plaza surged to a three-run lead in the first inning to worry the strong Village Inn nine, but the league-leaders came back with a vengeance in the second heat to shove across six markers for a two-run margin. However, the underdog clothiers came back to rack up three runs in the second and four more in the third to go in front, 10 to 6. McGuckin's lads got one back in the third and two in the fourth but they were still two runs behind going into the final heat. A determined rally led by Rudy LaMar, David Wade, and Jeff Zimmerman manufactured three runs and earned the Inn club a shot at Little Sparrows for the 1961 championship.

HEAVY HITTING IN PONY LEAGUE PLAY

Grand slam homers have been the rule rather than the exception in Carmel Pony League play so far this season with five players having connected with bases-loaded round-trippers. Greg Jones (Giants), Tim Head and Ronnie Berry (Cardinals), Dave Preve (Broncos), and Howdy King (Dodgers) are the power hitters who have driven in four runs with one sweep of the bat.

The Bill Woolsey - Baxter Giants are leading the Pony League with three wins and no losses as the six-team circuit goes into the final week of the first-half. The Giants won a big one from the Cardinals to take over first place from Bob Baugh's crew and protected their lead by whipping the Braves, 24 to 5, last Saturday morning. Brilliant pitching by Matt Little and Lawson Little plus the steady catching of Tim Petersen has given the Giants a dependable battery in each game played.

After dropping the decision to the Giants, the Sport Shop Cardinals came back to Dodgers, 5 to 2, and got by the Valley Broncos, 7 to 1. Tim Head supplied the power in the Dodger victory, hitting a bases-loaded homer when his team was four runs behind. Tim Mosolf and George DuBets teamed up to throw a three-hitter at the Broncos to keep the Cardinals close to the front-running Giants.

Second-half play starts tonight with the Dodgers meeting the Broncos in a 6:00 o'clock game at the high school diamond; Friday night, it's the Braves against the Cardinals; and Saturday morning the Navy goes against the Giants.

At 5:30 Peninsula members of the Navy League will have dinner and cruise on the DeHaven. A USO dance starts at 8:00 o'clock.

cien Labaudt Gallery, the deYoung Museum and the Brunn Gallery, the Santa Barbara Museum, two at Hartnell College in Salinas and on the Peninsula at the New Group Gallery and the Carmel Art Association Gallery.

Richard Lofton's paintings are in the permanent collections of the San Francisco Museum of Art, the Santa Barbara Museum of Art, the Cleveland Museum in Ohio, and that of the International Business Machines Corporation. A painting of his younger daughter, Melissa, belongs to the Monterey Library and is displayed near the entrance. When the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies opens its new building this weekend, a Lofton garden painting will be displayed as a permanent possession, purchased and donated to the institute by a local patron.

An active member of the Carmel Art Association, Richard Lofton served on the board of directors of this organization "for a number of years." He is now a member of the Carmel Arts Commission. He conceived the idea of a permanent memorial art gallery at City Hall and prepared details outlining this project for arts commissioners to present to the city council this month.

But he will not describe this project to the council himself, he expects to be away from Carmel until August. Next week he will fly East to paint commissioned portraits in Birmingham, Alabama, and Beaufort, South Carolina, then visit his sisters in the South, also go to his home town, near Charleston, taking Melissa, a River School pupil, with him.

"That is, if my plane reservations come through," he says ruefully, having forgotten that the time he wishes to leave Carmel coincides with the nation's Fourth of July travel.

Commissioners Add Motel-Hotel Areas To General Plan

The planning commission decided to amend the general plan of the city yesterday by designating additional areas on the perimeter of the business zone for C-1-L (motel-hotel) use. The city council all people assemble. A brief program will follow.

General visiting on the ships will continue in the afternoon on Thursday, 1:00-5:30 o'clock. At 8:00 o'clock there will be a basketball game for visitors from the ships at Carmel High School, and baseball will be played in the afternoon at El Estero Ball Park.

requested the commission to recommend these extensions of the C-1-L zone which now includes only ten lots on the north side of Ocean Avenue, six on the south, between Monte Verde and Casanova Streets.

The commission recommended to the council hotel-motel zoning for the block bounded by Ocean, Junipero, Fifth and Torres; property fronting on Third Avenue, varying a depth of 100 to 130 feet, from the middle of the block east of Junipero Street, west to San Carlos; all of the block contained by Third, San Carlos, Dolores and Fourth; La Playa Hotel site (14 lots); five lots on each side of San Carlos Street north of Eighth Avenue.

Before these properties are zoned C-1-L, the city council must approve the zoning, and public hearings must be held. Property owners will have opportunities to object to the zoning during the hearings. Yesterday J. O. Handley and Anthony Vasconcellos told commissioners they did not favor C-1-L zoning for their property on the east and west side of Junipero at Third.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The Gala Opera Concert of the Musica Viva Series took place Sunday at the Pacific Grove High School before an audience that did not fill the house but was representative of discriminating musical people. Three short operas by Darius Milhaud, Claude Debussy and Paul Hindemith was the bill. The performing company of young artists of the San Francisco Conservatory Opera Workshop proved their capacity and received a good press when the Milhaud and Hindemith works were presented there about three months ago. Debussy's L'Enfant Prodigue, librettist Jean Cocteau, was an early composition that won him the Prix de Rome when he was at the Paris Conservatory. It was then a cantata. Sung in French with an extremely simple background it was the finest work of the trio, portraying the prodigal's return to his parents. The logical completeness of form and development in the composer's original impressionistic idioms was expressed by Venetia Gatsos, Karl Woelhaf and James Eitze, all good voices, who sang with dramatic feeling and drew enthusiasm and demands for recalls from the audience. It was a gem of operatic writing. Debussy's only big opera, Pelleas and Melisande, stands alone for his failing health prevented him from completing four others, unfortunately.

Milhaud's The Unfortunate Sailor, a story taken by librettist Cocteau from police records of a seafaring town, — scene a street and fisherman's bar, somewhat gruesome and depressing, was adequately performed by Bonnie Proctor, Milton Williams, Karl Woelhaf and Ronald Gallegos. Milhaud, one of the original French Les Six, who deserted the group before Honegger and the rest, had written the music characteristically though often surprising and dissonant.

Sancta Suzanna, Hindemith, librettist Schramm, employed the cast of Virginia Ray, Jacqueline Lake, Venetia Gatsos, Barbara Norris, Karl Woelhaf, Charlotte Reiss, and Peggie Dunlap in a scene of a medieval convent where the emotional rebellion of a neophyte is finally subdued by mystic lights in and around the huge crucifix. The impassioned singing and acting of Ray as the young nun was impressive.

These two last operas were sung in English, translated by George and Eva Hitchcock who were also the stage directors, with stage manager Milton Williams. Otto Schulmann and Robert Sheldon at two pianos played the scores and received, with the performers, an ovation for excellent work, even though seeming too heavy in spots, this owing largely to faulty acoustics of the hall. We are indebted to the management of Musica Viva Concert Series for opportunity to hear these small, rare operas of foremost modern composers which might never be on the stage of large opera companies. It was a valuable contribution to music on the Peninsula. Next Sunday the last concert will take place at the Steinbeck, a string quartet.

About two years ago when Jose Greco and his large company entranced us with their Flamenco program at Sunset, Chinin de Triana was one of his best singing artists. Having since broken away from Greco, William Herbert Long now presents de Triana with Loretta Garcia, dancer, and Pepe Del Monte, guitarist. They were heard last Saturday by a considerable house that stamped much approval, adding more noise to the gypsy stamping and clapping which becomes a somewhat monotonous sound continued on a stage all evening. An outdoor gypsy environment would, of course, seem more part and parcel of the primitive actions of a primitive and emotional people. Nevertheless, Flamenco has attained today an artistic status as Spanish national dancing and singing. While quite in keeping with the traditional elements of the art, it seemed to this writer Chinin de Triana was somewhat limited in presenting interpretations of it in his three-person group, who however, each displayed talent and characterization that thoroughly pleased the audience. The alternating dances, songs, and guitar-playing follow so close a general pattern in tone and action that monotony is liable, though each have their individual value and import, and caused recall to all three artists.

Conductor Sando Salgo, Priscilla Salgo, and Ralph Linsley, are now in Carmel preparing the Bach Festival rehearsals; and the National Symphony Orchestra League arrives this weekend to start its two-week Work-Shop at Asilomar.

The California String Quartet, Felix Kuhner, violin; David Schneider, violin; Detlev Olshausen, viola and Helen Stross, cello; (who has played with the Monterey Symphony Orchestra) have just completed their tenth subscription season and known for unusual programs, will be the thirteenth and last Institute of Theatre Arts' concerts at the Steinbeck on Sunday. The program is the Haydn Quartet, Op. 70, No. 1, Ives' Quartet No. 2 and the posthumous Schubert Death and the Maiden. The Ives is a unique work, a satire on quartet music with funny episodes. Future plans of Musica Viva to be announced later on.

John Wilkin, son of Mrs. Angie Wilkin of Carmel Highlands, left Sunday to enter the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs. He graduated from Carmel High School on June 16 as the outstanding athlete of the Class of 1961. This winter he was named All-American high school tackle based on his record with Carmel High School's championship football team.

John was asked to play for the North Team in the North-South Shrine Game in Los Angeles July 26 as one of the 25 superior football players who graduated from California high schools this June, but because of his Air Force Academy appointment declined the honor.

Pat Merivale Has Fellowship

Patricia Merivale has been granted a graduate fellowship by Wellesley College for the 1961-62 academic year. It is the Alice Freeman Palmer Fellowship, named in honor of an early president of Wellesley, one of the foremost women educators of her day.

After graduating from Carmel High School, Pat attended Stanford University for two years, then transferred to the University of California where she received a

West's Report On Valle de Bravo

Mr. and Mrs. R. Rolleston West have returned from a "mostly off the beaten track" trip to Mexico. They even did some of their traveling in second class Mexican buses and report it was worth it. One of their stopping places was Valle de Bravo, 200 miles south of Mexico City. Here they saw Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Boyer of Carmel who are working at the Laubach Institution de Alfabetacion this summer. Mrs. West says that Louise Boyer has interesting and lively art classes for Mexicans of all ages and a number of her students' pictures have been chosen for exhibition in Mexico City, also Gilbert Boyer was to have a concert there.

Carmel Gardens On MPVS Tour

Gardens open to the public on August 16 during the tenth Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services Garden Tour and Flower Show will be those of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Doud and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett of Hatton Fields; in Pebble Beach the former George Gann estate, now owned by Ernest K. Tea will be served on the day of the tour at the Griffin home. Mrs. Rudolph ver Mehr heads the committee arranging this event. She will be assisted by Mrs. Robert McKay Brown. Mrs. Robert Stanton will be in charge of decorations.

Miss Peg Bowen is general chairman for the garden tour and flower show, assisted by Mrs. Arthur H. Black. The gardens were selected by a committee composed of Mrs. Edward P. McMurtry, Mrs. Archer Allen and Mrs. S. Y. Cutler. Steering committee members are Mrs. Howell Armor, Mrs. E. J. Murray, Mrs. Roy Page and Miss Claire Kennedy, MPVS president.

Farewell Luncheon For Margot

Mrs. Madeline Jones and her daughters, Donna and Margot, left last Friday for the East where Mrs. Jones will live. Donna will return to California in the fall to continue her education at the University of California in Los Angeles. For the past two years she has been a student at Monterey Peninsula College. Margot, who graduated from Carmel High School this month, plans to enter Stephens College in Missouri in September.

The day before she left, Margot was guest of honor at a surprise luncheon party given by two of her Carmel High School classmates, Layton Thies and Mardi Lloyd. Those who met at Layton's house to bid Margot farewell, all members of the Class of 1961, were Penny Nielsen, Pam Petersen, Mary Martin, Kim Chappell, Kit Duggan, Vicki Walsh, Joy Fehring, Billy Fritsche and Betsy Coleman. The latter went East with Margot and will be her guest for the next few weeks, then return to Carmel.

Patty Elston In Geneva

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Richard Britz are seen, above, immediately following their recent marriage in Franklin Park, Illinois. Mrs. Britz is the former Jana Lee Miles, daughter of Mrs. Dexter Whitcomb of Carmel and William W. Miles of Los Altos. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Britz of Woodstock, Illinois. They are now living in Addison, Illinois, after a honeymoon in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Whitcomb went East to attend the wedding, as did, also, Jana's sister, Judy Miles of Carmel, her grandmothers, Mrs. William L. White of Carmel and Mrs. William R. Miles of Fresno, her uncle, William W. White of Atherton, Mrs. A. J. Schaffer of Menlo Park and Mrs. Maxine Treat of Ponca City, Oklahoma.

The double ring ceremony took place in St. Gertrude's Church during a Nuptial Mass celebrated by Father Hilary J. Laz. White gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

Jana was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of soft white silk mist taffeta with a cathedral train had re-embroidered Venetian lace appliques and scalloped organza offsets on bodice and floor-length skirt. A pearl and crystal crown held her three-tiered finger tip illusion veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, surrounded with lilies of the valley and baby chrysanthemums.

She was attended by Edna Mae Straub of Harwood Heights, Illinois, as maid of honor, and her younger sister, Judy, and Sherill Schmitt of Fresno as bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in street-length frocks of lilac organza over taffeta with matching hats and shoes. Lavender orchids and lilies of the valley were combined in their bouquets.

Thomas R. Britz was best man for his brother and ushers were Donald Frozley and Philip Parker, all of Woodstock, Illinois.

Mrs. Whitcomb wore an aqua silk sheath dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage for her daughter's marriage.

Mrs. Britz, the mother of the bridegroom, attended the ceremony in a light blue embroidered silk organza dress, matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The wedding reception was held in the Legion Hall in Glen Ellyn, Illinois.

Jana graduated from Carmel High School in 1958, then attended Fresno State College where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. For the past year she has been employed by United Airlines, stationed in Chicago. She has three brothers, Jim Miles and Michael Whitcomb of Carmel and Gary Miles of Los Altos. Linda Miles of Los Altos is her sister.

Her husband is a 1956 graduate of St. Mary's High School in Woodstock, Illinois. He attended Notre Dame University in South Bend, Indiana, and is now employed by United Airlines at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago. His grandparents are Mrs. William J. Britz of Woodstock, Illinois, and the late Mr. Britz, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Vyvian Esh of Elgin, Illinois.

Shirley Flint Married Saturday
While gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the candlelit carved altar of the Church of the Wayfarer Saturday evening when Shirley Jeanne Flint and Charles Lane Dawson recited wedding vows in a ceremony performed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

Shirley entered the church on the arm of her father, T. James Flint of Carmel Valley, who also gave her in marriage. Her gown of white silk organza over white tulle had Venetian lace appliques covering the fitted bodice with two rows of the same lace appliqued down the front of the billowing bouffant skirt. A crystal and pearl crown held her beehive-style veil and she carried a colonial cascade bouquet of white phloxes and stephanotis.

She was preceded up the aisle by five attendants in pastel-hued frocks. They were her sister, Cindy Flint, who was maid of honor in blue and two bridesmaids, another sister, Janet Flint, in yellow, and the bridegroom's sister, Karen Dawson, in orchid. The two junior bridesmaids wore pink. They were the bride and bridegroom's young-est, sisters, Carol Flint and Christine Dawson. The older attendants bouquets were cascades of carnations which matched their dresses and the smaller girl's carnation nosegays also blended with their frocks. Their hair, shoes and gloves were white.

Dale Dawson was best man for his brother. Ushers were another brother of the bridegroom, Darrell Dawson, Paul Prince and Robert Little.

Mrs. Flint wore a blue chiffon floral print dress with accents of rose-pink which harmonized with her hat and carnation corsage. Mrs. Charles Dawson, the bridegroom's mother, had burnt orange and beige tones in her floral print silk gown which were repeated in her carnation bouquet and beige hat.

The reception following the ceremony was held in Fellowship Hall at the Church of the Wayfarer.

Shirley and Charlie will live in Carmel this summer, then enroll at Chico State College in the fall. Both are graduates of Carmel High School. Shirley has finished a year at San Jose State College and Charlie two years at Monterey Peninsula College.

Charles Dawson, Charlie's father, is the principal of Carmel Unified School District's adult school and summer school programs. Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Ruth Finch of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Benson and Miss Joyce La Fontaine, San Rafael; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Gomes and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gomes, Los Banos; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dawson and family, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson, Manteca; Mr. and Mrs. T. Dawson, Monterey; Sunnyvale; and Mr. and Mrs. George Porter, Burlingame.

Dinner at Versailles

Mrs. Gladys Johnston is back from a European trip during which she attended the International Congress of Realtors in Paris. Meetings were held in the UNESCO building for representatives from 18 countries. Highlight of the congress was a dinner party in the Gallery of Battles in the Palace of Versailles. The 900 guests were directed up the marble staircase and served by white-wigged attendants resplendent in gold and blue livery. After dinner the Versailles fountains were played with a narrator describing the significance and colored lights on each fountain as it was turned on. All the fountains played for the finale. Danching followed in the Palace until 4:00 o'clock. Mrs. Johnston also visited Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Austria while she was abroad.

HIGHLANDS GALLERY SHOW

The Carmel Highlands Gallery will extend the exhibition of temporary paintings by Dale Hennessey through July. His abstract and realistic interpretations include many facets of the West: ghost towns, the Pacific coastline, Monterey Wharf and the Pacific Grove butterfly trees.

A resident of Studio City and a free lance designer of stage sets, Hennessey is presently art director for the movie Flower Drum Song and designed sets for the Ice Follies for three years.

Churches...*CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SEMINAR THE CHURCH OF THE WAYFARER

How obedience to the law of God opens the way to freedom will be explained Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Among Scriptural passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" is one from Psalm 119: "Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it unto the end. . . . And I will walk at liberty: for I seek they precepts."

Man's right to freedom is also brought out in selections from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy which will include: "Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man" (p. 227).

Studio Theatre Opens With Satirical Revue Tomorrow Evening

Carmel's Studio Theatre opens its fourth summer musical season tomorrow night with a fast paced, satirical musical revue titled Loose Ends. Producers Betty Hackett and Royden Martin are presenting the production as a worthy successor to the original revues of Jerry De Bono, 8 and Run and Whoops!

Writer and director Jerry De Bono will be joining his cast on stage in the comic sketches, musical numbers and blackouts that are included in Loose Ends. De Bono was also director for last summer's musicals Leave It To Jane and Out of This World.

Returning for her third summer with The Studio company is Frankie Dewey, the delightful comedienne of Leave It To Jane and Whoops! Geraldine Kennon, the starring comedienne in Out of This World, is also returning for a second season with the theatre.

Cliff Berry and Don Osborn complete the male cast for the revue. Both will be starting their fourth season with The Studio. Osborn was last summer's Mercury in Out of This World and Berry played "Bub" Hicks in Leave It To Jane.

Making their local theatre debuts in Loose Ends will be Anne Parsons, a young professional dancer, and Gloria Revak, a former member of Stanford University's Drama department.

After its premiere performance on Friday, Loose Ends will play nightly through July 8, after which it will alternate weekly with the musical comedy Best Foot Forward which will open at The Studio on July 14.

Julia Whittlesey

Mrs. Julia D. H. Whittlesey, 84, died on Friday in a local nursing home. She had been failing in health for some time.

Mrs. Whittlesey came to Carmel in 1943. Her home was at Tenth Avenue and Mission Street. She was the mother of Carmel city councilman, Eben Whittlesey, and a sister of the late Ella Hill Fitch, widow of Colonel Roger Fitch of Monterey.

Born in New England, Mrs. Whittlesey lived for many years in New York and Connecticut, where her husband, the late Granville Whittlesey practiced law. Following his death she joined the staff of a New England college until she came to live here.

In addition to her son in Carmel, Mrs. Whittlesey is survived by two other sons, Julian H. Whittlesey and Granville Whittlesey Jr., both living in New York.

Funeral services were held this morning in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel with the Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, officiating. Simultaneous memorial services for Mrs. Whittlesey were conducted in New York.

Briefs . . .

official word of the decision, but when they meet Monday and do, there is every reason to expect that they will instruct District Attorney Ed Barnes to appeal the decision to the district court.

With the residents of the county firmly behind them, the supervisors have said they will fight for their ordinance up through the courts to the supreme court, and they were aware that they would have to do so, for if Judge Brazil had sustained the ordinance, the outdoor advertising companies would have appealed.

Judge Brazil ruled against the section of the ordinance which prohibits billboards in unclassified (unzoned) land in the county. The billboard companies cried discrimination since the ordinance specifically prohibits their boards but allows other commercial uses on use permit.

Other sections of the ordinance are not affected by the decision.

The Shopping Center at the mouth of the Valley is to have a branch of the Carmel Post Office at The Carmel Rancho Pharmacy, if head office in San Francisco decides there is sufficient need. The county planning commission approved Tuesday. The branch office, which will be in charge of Dick Moore, proprietor of the Pharmacy, will sell stamps and money orders and receive mail but not deliver it, for the present, since the area is served by a RFD route out of the Carmel office.

Willard Neumann has asked for a court order for the issuance of a building permit for an apartment, hotel or motel or lodging house on his residential property at Ocean Avenue and Mountain View. His hearing has been set for July 6, 2:00 o'clock in Judge Anthony Brazil's court.

Last year the planning commission denied his petition for rezoning the property from residence to commercial use so he could build an apartment house, and the council sustained the planning commission when Neumann appealed.

Neumann claims that his property was used as hotel or rooming lodge for 30 years before Carmel was zoned. The present zoning of the residence district of Carmel has been in effect since 1929.
